OFFICIAL ORGAN FOR

DE SISTI HALLE 13 STAND G51

De Sisti, founded just a few short years ago in 1982, will be exhibiting their complete range of location lighting equipment.

This Rome based company offers a vast range of specialized lighting equipment designed to meet every professional need. This equipment is backed by a suitable range of accessories.

On their stand during Photokina, visitors will be able to examine the DLK range of lights that are noted for their portability. This range covers a variety of models to suit different applications. They are light in weight and come complete with purpose-built rigid carrying cases that are designed to protect the equipment when travelling from location point to another.

They will also be showing a new range of spotlights for TV and film studio use, with outputs from 200 to 1200 Watts.

The various ancillary and accessory equipment will include dichroic filters, hinged arms, flags and veils, stands and supports, various special application grips, including different types of holders, barn doors and scrim sets.

In fact there will be on display an entire and complete gamma of equipment relating to lighting - from main line equipment right through to ancillary equipment.

De Sisti would like to inform the readers of Photo Made in Italy that they will be most pleased to see them at the coming exhibition at Cologne and invite them to call by and see the equipment on display.
